

Long-term goals

- The long-term goals are to utilize meta-proteomics to decipher community function in soils
- Why should we care about “proteins”?
  - Biological processes are carried out by functional proteins
  - Diversity studies are providing insights but need to know more about community “function”

